Freshman Class History

Gail Davidson

The day had arrived! We were finally in high school. As we looked into the corridors of Charlton High School in September, 1958, we found sixty-five timid Freshmen, all excited, as this was the beginning of their long journey.

The class separated into two rooms under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn Dawson and Mrs. Barbara Meservy. However, when Mrs. Meservy, the substitute, left, we were also pleased to welcome Mrs. Kunzman. Each room elected its own officers, who were as follows: Presidents - Douglas Norcross and Robert Tucker; Vice-Presidents - Barbara Dunn and James Tansey; Secretaries - Nancy Blais and Sylvia St. Onge; Treasurers - Janet Duplessis and Sandra Freudenthal.

We were very glad to greet three new students - namely, George Chicoine, Richard Clark, and Nancy Graham. However, were sorry to lose one of our students, Ralph Ferguson.

At the end of our Freshman year, our honor roll students were these: Nancy Blais, Barbara Dunn, Sandra Freudenthal, Pauline Gunter, Susan Paquin, Bernadette Prunier, Mary Stone, and James Tansey.

Our activities for the year were our Freshman Hop and the Magazine Drive.

Our Freshman year quickly rolled by, and we left on our summer vacation with bright hopes for the future and with only three more years to go.

Sophomore Class History

Sandra Freudenthal

We began our Sophomore year with fifty-nine pupils, still divided into two rooms, under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn Dawson and Mr. Thomas Puchalsky.

The class officers for the year were elected as follows: President - Pauline Gunter; Vice-President - Robert Tucker; Secretary - Sylvia St. Onge; Treasurer - Janet Duplessis; and Student Council Representative - Elaine Schiller.

During the year, we were sorry to lose Henry Stevens.

Our honor roll students for the year were these: James Tansey, Nancy Blais, Barbara Dunn, Richard Frederick, Susan Paquin, Mary Stone, and Robert Tucker.

Our activities for the year consisted of a successful Sophomore Hop and the Magazine Drive.

At the end of our Sophomore year we all anxiously awaited our Junior year, which meant our class rings, and most of all, our own Junior Prom.

Junior Class History

Janice Davis

We began our Junior Year in September of 1960, with 58 pupils. We were happy to gain Gary Nale, Virginia Pellessier, and Ralph Ferguson, and regretfully lost Mabel Dickinson, Theodore Bellerive, Annette Boisjolie, Lillian Hall, and Nancy Graham.

Our class was separated into two rooms under the supervision of Mr. James Fleming and Mr. Andrew Piwcio.

The Junior Class officers were as follows: President - James Tansey; Vice-President - Bernadette Prunier; Secretary - Janice Davis; Treasurer - Sylvia St. Onge; Class Representative - Bernadette Prunier.

Early in October, Charlton High School held its annual Magazine Drive. The Junior Class highest salesman was Douglas Norcross. As a whole, the class contributed $216.00 to the drive.

Our class decided to have a candy sale in October in order to raise money for our prom and Senior Class trip to Washington, D.C. We sold Chocolate Covered Almonds and Katydids. Our highest salesmen were Nancy Blais and Howard Brown. Our profit was $98.50.

On November 18, we held our Junior Hop in the Elementary School cafeteria. Keith Knowlton, Jerry Clausen and Richard Frederick furnished our music. Our refreshments were doughnuts furnished us by the Junior boys of the Chef's Club, and cider. Our profit was $79.00. We considered this a substantial amount.

Our Junior Prom was held on May 5, 1960, under the supervision of Mrs. Hammond. Music was furnished by George Gregory's Orchestra. Our theme was "Starlight Sonata," with a color scheme of sapphire blue, ice blue, and pink. Our class colors are ice blue and pink, with pink carnations as our class flower. Many members of the Junior Class worked hard on color schemes, light fixtures and decorations for our Prom under the expert direction of Mrs. Shiela Glynn and Mrs. Emma Hammond. Among these members were James Tansey, Sylvia St. Onge, Janice Davis, Pauline Gunter, Elaine Schiller, Laurel Wetteland, Nancy Andrews, Bernadette Prunier, Keith Knowlton, Barbara Dunn, Gail Davidson, Pamela Ewing, Sandra Freudenthal, Lyle Favreau, Diane Ditomasso, Judy Seifert, Natalie Roix, Edwin Barnes and others.

We were proud to have the following pupils on the honor roll for this year: Robert Tucker, James Tansey, Barbara Dunn, Keith Knowlton, Bernadette Prunier, Mary Stone, Susan Paquin and Catherine Cavannaugh.

We came to the end of our Junior Year feeling quite proud and satisfied with our many activities and looking eagerly forward to our Senior Year.

Senior Class History

Elaine Schiller

We, the Seniors of Charlton High School, started our last year here with forty-nine students. Regretfully, we lost Marie Boudreau, Linda Harman, and Richard Wright. Our class advisors this year were Mr. Robert Ewing and Mr. Andrew Piwcio.

Our class officers chosen for this year were as follows: President - Robert Tucker; Vice-President - Jerry Clausen; Secretary - Elaine Schiller; Treasurer - Sylvia St. Onge.

Our Honor Roll students were as follows: Nancy Andrews, Nancy Blais, Bernadette Prunier, Sandra Freudenthal, Janice Davis, Keith Knowlton, Susan Paquin, James Tansey, and Robert Tucker.

One of our most versatile and charming students, Barbara Dunn, was chosen to represent us on Student Government Day in Boston this spring.

Our first social activity to raise money for the Washington Trip was our Senior Hop which started our year off well, financially. September 30, was the time.

Soon it was time for our Senior Auction, and everyone pitched in and really worked hard. Our hard work was rewarded by the sum of $700.00 profit. We thank our advisor, Mr. Ewing for his excellent help.

Our Senior Play was next on the agenda, and it turned out to be quite a success thanks to our wonderful directors which were Mrs. Mabel Fiske and her assistant, Miss Judith Blake. It was held on November 2, at which time the Town Hall was filled to capacity. The cast included: the leading man, Jesse Stuart - Keith Knowlton supported by Richard Frederick, Jerry Clausen, Nancy Andrews, Pamela Ewing, Catherine Cavannaugh, Donald Thompson, Robert Tucker, Lyle Favreau, Raymond Moulton, Howard Brown, David Allard, Paul Duplessis, James Tansey, Gail Davidson, Sandra Freudenthal, Bernadette Prunier, Sandra Jenkins, Mary Stone, Judy Seifert, Natalie Roix, Susan Paquin, Janice Davis, Gary Nale, Barbara Dunn, Beverly Stone, Janet Duplessis, and Elaine Schiller.

Our Christmas Card sale was very profitable and helped us a great deal toward our Washington Trip. Again we thank Mr. Ewing for his efforts as advisor of this project.

Our Senior Supper was held on February 3rd. It was a great success and our last project making activity for the year. The Seniors all worked hard to make this last event so successful. Our menu consisted of Baked Ham, Beans, Salad, Milk, Coffee, and Cake. Thanks to the expert leadership of Mr. Ewing, our Senior Supper was a success.

I am quite sure that we will never forget the wonderful time we spent in Washington during the month of February. Our chaperones this year were as follows: Miss Alice Shrestinian, Mrs. Shiela Glynn, Mrs. Vera Bancroft, Mr. Andrew Piwcio, and Mr. William Ball.

We are all looking forward to our Class Day activities and our Senior Graduation. I'm sure our Senior Reception will long be remembered as a wonderful time.

This ends our events of the Class of '62, and with our departure, we would like to thank our advisors, Mr. Robert Ewing and Mr. Andrew Piwcio for their great help during the year. We particularly would like to thank Mrs. Hammond for her help with our class rings, yearbook advertising, and our Junior Prom and Senior Reception.

Our sincere thanks are also extended to Mrs. Fiske for her work on our Senior Play, yearbook, Class Day, and Graduation speeches. We would like to thank all the faculty members for their help through the years and we wish the Juniors all the luck in the world.

Class Prophecy

by Natalie Roix

After being away for twenty years it seemed strange to be registering at the new Charlton Hilton Hotel. After getting settled I came downstairs to the lobby and was looking around, when suddenly a name on a door, marked private, caught my eye. It was "Edward Gillespie, President." Wondering if it were the Teddy Gillespie of high school, I went over to the desk, only to find my old pal, David Allard, as the desk clerk. David told me that it was Ted and that he was married to Judy Seifert and they were now visiting Spain on their second honeymoon, and that they would be back in time for the reunion. Looking at the door I could hardly believe it - and at that minute Janet Duplessis came out the door. She came over to me and we started to talk. I found out that Janet was Teddy's private secretary and that Cathy Cavanaugh and Sylvia St. Onge were head bookkeepers at the hotel. Cathy and Sylvia were both married and had children.

After that great shock, I thought I'd go over to the high school to see if any of my old teachers were still there. Charlton had built a large beautiful new school five years ago. I looked at the plaque on the outside that read: "Lyle Favreau, Architect, 1977"; Lyle had designed this school, I just couldn't believe it. Entering the school, I saw the office and went in. Who do you think was the school secretary? It was Janice Davis. Janice had a staff of five girls under her, two of them were old classmates, Gail Davidson and Evelyn Rollins. The principal was Robert Tucker. Barbara Dunn was head of the Math department. She was married to Ray Moulton who was never home because he gave water-skiing exhibitions and lessons all around the world. Then I saw Marilyn Whitcomb, who was the school nurse. Marilyn told me that Donald Thompson and Douglas Norcross wouldn't be at the reunion because Doug was now the manager of the New York Yankees and they were playing in the World Series, and Donald was to announce the game that was to take place tomorrow. Donald was a National sports announcer.

Charlton had its own airport, and Janice told us some more of our old classmates had just arrived. We all jumped into a car to meet them. We arrived at the airport to find Sue Paquin, who had recently won the Pulitzer Prize for a famous medical novel, and Pauline Gunter Rockerfeller, who had married into the Rockerfeller millions. Among the group were James Manning and his wife Elaine Schiller. Jimmy was now ambassador to Russia where Elaine made quite a hit with the Russian men, so they tell me.

On the way back from the airport we just had to stop at Walter Baylies' 200 head cattle ranch. Walter was married to Jane Blauvelt, and they had four children. One of the cows was very sick so we all went into the barn to see what was wrong. The attending physician was James Tansey. His assistant was Richard Frederick. Since Walter and Jane had such a big farm house, the seniors with big families stayed there with their children, and you'll never guess who they were. They were Mrs. Bernadette Prunier Butler and Mrs. Mary Lou Stone Duplessis and her husband Paul who is commissioner of parks in New York. Each of the girls had six children.

Sandra Jenkins also had a farm across the street from Walter's. Sandy, who was Mrs. Edwin Barnes, raised chickens. Edward was a sergeant in the Army. Sandy told us that David Hamel and Marion Mailloux were in the Navy, and that their twenty years would soon be up.

It was getting dark as we left the farm. On the way back to town we decided to stop at Howard Johnson's, which was managed by Ginny Pellissier. And who was behind the counter but Pamela Ewing still slaving after twenty years; but she looked happy. As we sat eating who should walk in but Gary Nale. Gary was coming from Boston after signing up to a five year contract with the Celtics, we were all pleased to hear this. Gary didn't tell us, but he had just married Laurel Wetteland after a fifteen year engagement. Gary never liked to rush things.

It was getting late when I got back to the hotel and in the lobby was Beverly Stone trying to talk people into buying Stanley Home Products. We sat down and talked for a while when Nancy Andrews who was a free lance artist came in with Mrs. Nancy Blais Bennett, who was living in Greenland. Nancy Andrews told me that she had seen Howie Brown just a few weeks ago and he was making plans to open a New-Way store in Greenland. He had a number of stores around the world and he also had a very pretty secretary who was always at his side: she was our own Sandy Freudenthal. Douglas Cudworth, who was in the grocery business also, owned a small but well-known butcher shop in Charlton, and Linda Mahoney was his bookkeeper and office girl.

I was quite disturbed to hear that three more people wouldn't attend our reunion. They were Jerry Clausen, Keith Knowlton, and Diane Ditomasso. Jerry and Keith were tax collectors for the City of Charlton and were on a hard case, which couldn't be left alone for a minute. It seems that an old lady refused to get out of her house and had them under cover with a shotgun. Diane Ditomasso McCracken had a set of twins and was expecting two more any day. As for myself, I have just returned from Hawaii as a representative of a New York business concern.

It's been such a long day and tomorrow is the big day when we will be together as a class for the fir time in twenty years. My, how people have changed!

Last Will and Testament

I, Beverly Stone, leave today to become Mrs. Cooper tomorrow.
I, Mary Lou Stone, leave my height to Marilyn Johnson.
I, Sylvia St. Onge, leave, still wondering why I came in the first place.
I, James Tansey, leave my extensive vocabulary to Edgar Leduc.
I, Donald Thompson, leave Mr. Pwicio with quiet study halls.
I, Robert Tucker, leave my way with the girls to Leonard McKinstry.
I, Laurel Wetteland, leave in my Corvette for the last time.
I, Marilyn Whitcomb, leave my height to Sheila Beeber.

CLASS MOTTO: And Tomorrow The Stars

Class Song--Tune--Tonight

By Bernadette Prunier and Pamela Ewing

Tonight, Tonight,
Our Graduation night-
It's time to leave dear Charlton High.
We wish to thank our teachers, one and all,
For their patience in seeing us through.

To Mr. Ewing, we give all our thanks,
And to the Juniors we also leave the key.

The past twelve years have certainly flown by.
We'll remember them with fond memories.
We'll miss our friends, our teachers, classmates too,
And we're sorry to bid them adieu.

Tonight's the night,
The time is drawing nigh,
So we say, Goodbye.

COMMENCEMENT

Reflect, if you will, on the word Commencement. Not only does it mean a celebration of a successful four years, but also a "beginning of graduation life." Actually, at your High School Commencement you are starting to assume life's major responsibilities. The diploma you receive is not only a reward, but a passport to this future responsibility. American Optical Company congratulates you on your "Commencement." Our best wishes go with you as you assume new duties and obligations that will further mold into a successful American Citizen.
